Fun Stuffs STARS

Editorial

The spirit of the festive season is infectious and the stunning beauty and warmth of Mauritius, especially now, makes it one of my favourite times of the year. Here at Shanti Maurice, we remain devoted to the pleasure of our guests and as the sun shines constantly, having fun and being lively is our second nature. This year, we have upped the anti and have decided to reminisce on a period where fun, fancy and strong sense of simply enjoying life was the ethos of the time... the glory 70's! With modern style and unpretentious luxuries, we embrace the soul of a time passed, but most certainly not forgotten.

The happenings are endless here between December 21st to January 2nd, with activities for our guests of all ages; from Les Petits Dodos "Little Fashionistas" Fashion Hour and weekday Junior Spa to Salsa evenings and Carolling Cocktail Parties.

Not to be missed for our young at hearts, is the internationally accredited and multi-award winning Nira Spa, where every visit serves to rejuvenate the senses. To fully prepare you for 2013, Nira Spa has created a special package for the season, "Santa Fusion - 12 Days of Spa". A wonderful gift for you and your significant other.

The sacred culinary arts of Chef Willi and his team are as provocatively delicious as ever and even more so at the Gala Dinner planned for New Year's Eve. Dresscode: 70's Groove, so pop on the big hair and platforms and blast out the colours. In addition, Stars and Pebbles Restaurants, Fish N Rhum Shack, Grandma's Kitchen and In-Room Dining experiences will have your taste buds on form and craving subsequent delights.

Shanti Maurice is a smashing, rocking place to be and we are honoured that you chose us to be your hosts.

Duarte Correia

"The happenings are endless here between December 21st to January 2nd."

"Did you know...?"

Dean's Sweaters Usually cream background with a patterned yoke around the neck, 3-button closure at neck. Very popular with the preppy crowd.

Hotpants Very short dressy shorts, usually plush velvet, with a wide, usually white, belt, to match your white go-go boots.

Hip Huggers How quickly we forget. Those bell bottoms with the "waistline" striking just below the belly button. Double front zippers were pretty fashionable, one on each side.

Mood Rings A ring which was supposed to describe what mood you were in by your body heat. Ex: Black= Bad Mood!

Denim Jeans Converted Into Skirts Ripped out the inseam and stitched floral print material in the middle to make it a skirt.

Fish & Rhum Shack

The celebrated Fish and Rhum Shack at Shanti Maurice, offering the most authentic Mauritian evening on the Island, has become an instant hit with guests and discerning locals alike. The rustic beach-side barbecue, elevated by lantern-light and the sound of waves breaking on the reef, is an unforgettable feast under the stars.

The menu, depending on the previous night's catch and the morning market, might include grilled prawns, lobster, sea bass, tuna, snapper, chicken and lamb chops. Cocktails feature rum from the local distillery, while the beer selection introduces the finest offerings from the village brewery. Sega dancers regularly wow guests with the captivating beats and rhythms of the national song and dance. This is a Mauritian experience not to be missed.

The freshest fish, meat and game is grilled on request and served with a selection of salads and herbs picked from our garden a few hours earlier.

Stars

Stars, serving the finest, freshest Cape food, shines at night. With exquisite, perfectly prepared dishes and a setting offering views over a starlit Indian Ocean, the restaurant turns dinner into a memorable occasion.

This is the place to lose track of time as the hours slip by as you savor your favourite wine.

The culinary influences are South African, but the ingredients are primarily local. Executive Chef Willibald Reinbacher and his team create simple yet lightly-designed dishes that excel in execution and flavour. Likewise the winelist, reflects the tastes of the Cape, along with the best that the Old World has to offer.

Herb & Vegetable Garden

Alongside the lush landscape gardens of Shanti Maurice lies a bountiful herb and vegetable garden, providing the Chef with fresh and organic ingredients for the day's dishes.

The garden plays home to over thirty varieties of herbs and vegetables, and depending on the season, citronelle, persil, romarin, basil, mint, and coriander are grown, along with vegetables such as beetroot, aubergine, broccoli and onion.

Executive Chef Willibald Reinbacher will gladly give you a personal tour of the herb garden and discuss the philosophy behind the resort's menu.

Nira Spa Kitchen Confidential – Home Facial

- Ingredients:-
- Natural Yoghurt 30ml
 - Organic Oatmeal 2tblsp
 - Pure Honey 2tsp
 - Egg White 1
 - Rooibos Tea 10ml

Method:-

Fully cleanse the face with natural yogurt then remove with warm water. Mix oatmeal, rooibos and honey into a paste and scrub lightly for about a minute and rinse thoroughly with warm water. With a fork, lightly whisk egg for a few seconds then apply to face and decollete, carefully avoiding the eye area and leave until it firms. Remove with warm face towel and repeat the cleanse with yoghurt.

Moisturise with Africology Moisturiser ... keep one in your fridge and the other in your bathroom.

Did you know?

Natural Mayonnaise is one of the most nourishing hair treatments ever. Smother throughout clean towel dry hair, then cover with plastic wrap for 20mins. Rinse well and condition as usual.

Chamomile or Black Tea Bags make great eye pads. Try it after a long day at work or a late night out ... or just because.
